It's the little unexpected things that make life interesting. Take for instance, becoming yearbook editor and then having last year's book dropped in your lap. I suppose, however, that it takes experiences like this to make life complete. I mean think of how bored my staff would have been at the beginning of this semester if they had not have had last year's book to play with! None-the-less, we, the 81-82 staff, take no responsibility for this book. We are just glad as you are that it finally arrived. We did the best with what we had (which wasn't much). I would like to thank my staff for helping me. They have proved the old saying, "that you know who your real friends are when the chips are down". Special thanks to Loretta Sams for the endless typing hours she put in. Special thanks to the GC Community for being so patient. We're looking forward to a much better year this year. Hope you are too!

Judy Jackson
Editor, 81-82

Step Into My Office

Do you ever get the urge to skate? I used to until I made a habit of cracking my bones everytime I put on the wheels. Anyway, lots of us did take the plunge this year and you can check it out on page 148.

Can you imagine a Halloween without a keg party at Mens? Neither can I! We almost had to imagine it, but somehow the men came through, and we got our costume keg party! Not many of us left sober, to check it out turn to page 92.

We had our share of pageantry this year what with both the Miss & Ms. G.C. pageants. Beautiful and talented Jackie Brown took the title of Miss G.C. and Johnita Williamson stole the crown from Donna Smith and Robin Robbins. For a hilarious update on the Ms. G.C. see page 76.

Thats me and my assistant editor Barbara Stickley posing for an old-fashioned portrait, photo courtesy Phyliss Case of Lord and Case. She came to photograph the recieplants of Who's Who and made a killing with the rest of the students. To see more of her work, turn to page 27.

A friend took me to the Homecoming Dance this year and it was, as ever, wild and wonderful. Jeanette Beaudry set up all the plans as usual and it was a smash! It was the social event of the school year and just about everyone who was anyone attended. Page 186. Don't forget the Spring Dance where LaUnah Cuffy was crowned may Queen. Page 180.

The last social event of the season was the Beach Party. Sand was brought in, shoes were kicked off, blankets and towels arrived, music pumped in and food provided. It was a blast! See page 150.

The special spread on Dungeons and Dragons is worth a few gold pieces to look into. It tries to give a little insight into the college fantasy game which is sweeping the country. It also tries to convince you to play, after all, you should try anything once, twice if you like it! Do a little adventuring on page 170.

If you theatre thrills you as much as it does me, I think you'll enjoy the spot on it on page 121.

This page means alot to me for it is my page-a page to rant & rave on or just be glad its finally over. Everyone who came in contact with me this year heard something about YEARBOOK! It was always on my mind. I wanted it to be the best-the best that I could achieve with my limited experience & I believe that I have done that. I entered this job with NO experience, but I believe that I have left it with much. A yearbook is not just what you see here-the finished product, it is so much more. For just one page you have to make 3 layouts, 3 copysheets, crop every picture and label it, index all people, place in an envelope and mail. Think of the work for 208! This was a hard job, but I enjoyed every minute, every hour, every day that I was editor. (really because I got my own office!)

Well, all I have left to say is that you hold the final result in your hands, it is yours to condemn or to condone. Accept it as it is, for as Ellyn Tucker once said "Did you help?"

PEOPLE

The PEOPLE Section contains the Seniors, the Juniors, the Sophomores, the Freshmen, Dedication, Faculty and Administration-in other words, all of the people who make up GC.

Being a Senior holds many connotations. It is a time of anticipation and a time of nostalgia. A Senior looks forward to entering a job, getting married or continuing his or her education. A Senior also realizes that college life will soon be past and looks back at all those experiences from earlier years.

The Class of 1981 has certainly made its contribution to G.C. in its own special way. So, it is with pride that we introduce our Senior section which is concluded by a segment of our most outstanding Seniors.

Marty Bear

-In Concert-

Marty Bear!

D. Williams, M. Call, and L. Mellon try to get close.

Does Randy Kanipe always have that backgammon set with him? This Wednesday evening, Sept. 24 seems to be no exception!

Yes! We're the members of the Marty Bear Fan Club. So what of it?

Marty Bear? We thought this was the Third Annual Meeting of the Preps for Power Club!

Come on!! Let's go talk to Marty Bear in person, and don't you dare say you are chicken!

Back To Campus Life

Clockwise from top: Jay Hilbinger seems intense on what must be someone else's math. Those must be the Volleyball Fiends who escaped from the Gym. (Tracy Butler & Gigi Lamorte) "Where's the P.J.?" snarls Sassy Conners. "I wasn't looking but somehow you found me." (Ellyn Tucker) All photos by J. Stanley.

Kate and Paul Cox enjoy the sun before those cold rainy winter days arrive.
Nappy Boykin will murder if another camera flashes at her.
Sharon Finger must go to class, she has a notebook and pen!
Dah . . . K.G. Swanson wonders about BooBoo Kitty (a stuffed pet friend)

Linda Mellon lazes again on her bed and talks on the telephone.
Kim lazes about between classes on the wall in the sun.
"Animal" Shatley may actually be subdued for the time being by a wild animaless.
Bob Martinelli picks at his shark in Comparitive Anatomy class.

Barbara Shrank has a friend close at hand. Mikey Black can lean on Barbara.
Mr Hart tells Frank what he did wrong, and Jay Hilbinger(who was floored by the criticism he recently got) can laugh now.
Ellen McAdams. Face the camera!
Julia East is not quite sure if she wants to leave or stay.
David Hyduke and Marcia Call talk about Camelot Wednesday night.

Donna Shatley may find studying in such a neck breaking position appropriate for the class, but it is doubtfull to help the thinking processes.
Steve Monsen has just finished another one of those great G.C. meal of starch.
Barbara Stickley smiles as usual at goodness knows what.
Rob Robbins heads on down to the cafeteria after the trek from Men's dorm.

Yes, Deb Williams can read Playgirl in Greek!
K.G. Swanson can be so coordinated to talk on the telephone and sock the air at the same time.
So, Julie Ansell, do you actually expect us to believe that your job in the real world will make you that rich??
The window watchers emerge from dorms so often.

Those at G.C. with cars are proud of the useful mobility machines. Donna Shatley is one such proud owner of a car.
We can go out on shopping sprees and get lots of stuff in our cars, or in those of our friends.
We can go home, or visit good friends with a car on the weekends.

We can meet people in our cars, or in their cars.

But without a car we can dream and look toward fun and excitement at Men's dorm.

"Bye now, maybe see ya'll next year!"

Around campus this year, we showed our faces. Libby Braswell and two friends decorated themselves up after an unusual Friday night. Rachel Gwen peaked out of her room. Holly Harrison, Dottie Clem, & Lisa Tarlton faced the camera. Betsy O'Briant & Joanie Osteen looked at the coliseum schedule for a good concert or flea market. Gordie Steadman made a very rare appearance down at breakfast and even on a Saturday!!!

ON THE SCENE

Our green and orange cafeteria did not change very much. The food was starch; the meat a mystery, and we still ate there. But, what else was new? The stage band gave us music to dine by on several occasions. SGA plagued us with an over abundance of campaign speeches. Mice and cockroaches "entertained" us during the other meals.

NEW WOMENS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Yes, G.C., there was a New Women's Christmas party! Some people did not think there would be a party due to the change in R.D., but he pulled it off with great success. (top left) Janet Allen snowed the mirror. Karla Pullen (top right) added her fancy bird to the sheet everyone got to sign. Bill (center left) decided what else needed to be decorated with snow. Sandra Crump & Jamie decided how to start decorating the lobby. The tree was decorated by ornaments the girls made. Angela Moore sat back after adding her John Hancock.

The November Pig Pickin' was a hoop hollerin' occasion on campus. We stood in line (bottom left) for the picnic style lunch. Not quite in true pig pickin' fashion, we picked the pork from the large hunks of roast pig with the help of knives, forks, and spoons (bottom right). Baked beans, cole slaw, potato salad, brownies, and soft drinks were also on the menu. We ate in groups (center right: Marcia Massey, Wanda Pope, Lynn Arrington) or we ate by ourselves (below: Dennis Straub). After eating, quite a number of backgammon sets were spread out, (right: Rachel Gwen and Naima Bousmaha)

GREENSBORO DORM CHRISTMAS PARTY

Greensboro Dorm had a party this year that was of quite a different note than New Womens. The furniture was moved aside, the stereo & speakers moved in, food baked, punch brewed, and Johnathan Bates struck up the music. People filtered in to boogie on down to the beat. Tracy Turner had a willful Keith Saine in hand. Paula Mann, Lori Robinson, & Wanda Collins were pretty wallflowers until they graced the dancefloor. Brian Fox, Renee Wigfall, Rochelle Smith, & Jeff Williams got down. Heywood Evans and Mike Drummond held up the wall before asking someone to dance. All photos by Barbara Stickley.

CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

The Festival of Seven Lessons and Carols, better known around campus as the Christmas Candlelight Service, was gorgeous this year. Seven Biblical lessons were read by different students, Staff members, faculty members. Between each lesson were the beautiful sounds of the Burlington Boys Choir, and the G.C. Concert Choir. The Christ Candlelight passed from candle to candle among those attending from the campus and community. The many little flames lighted the crowded chapel and then moved out to surround the fountain before retiring into the Lea Center for a reception given by the Alumni for the Burlington Boys Choir. (starting top left) The G.C. Choir, Carol Fenton, Dean Medlin, Carol Thomas, President Wilkinson, Donna Burnette, and Rick Melton all attended. Photos by B. Stickley

Around the campus there is time to think, work, socialize, and just shoot the moon. Donna Shatley (right) just gazes into space as do "Woggy" Waugaman and Curt Overington (below). Robert Kostszycki (center right) sits comfortably in his chair shaking a finger at any who disturb him. Ada Freeman, Liz Powell, Kathy Coleman, Taffy McLean, Kim Rainy, and Wanda Hemphill (bottom) get together for a study break party. Tom Vick walks over to New Women's Dorm to call for someone (bottom right). Photos taken by J. Stanley & D. Smith.

Also after the pig, etc., the Blue Grass Band from Asheville struck up the fiddle, banjo, electric guitar, and guitar for a little dancin'! They had played for us during the meal. Then we had some square dancin' to do for them. We swang our partner round an' round (bottom left), & went under London Bridge (below). The rest watched, kept time, and went back for seconds (bottom right). The largest campus dog came to eat too (center left). Some down by the patio got into the music with a little clogin' (left). All photos by B. Stickley.

On some warm October nights (29th-31st) in 1980, all manner of strange creatures, animals, objects, people, and miscellaneous whatevers were let loose on our campus. On the 29th during a festive buffet banquet, Death and the Cat walked down in our midst. Miss "Mattie", last years N.W. Dorm Director, revisited us (Dottie Clem). She was assisted down the steps and across the floor by the Roller Derby Queen (Janet Allen). We were plagued by a Clone (Karla Pullen) of this years first S.G.A.'s President, J. David Fandino.

. . . He points . . .

The Jolly Green Giant and his Little Tomato (Snake Smith and Robin Matte) came to visit us, but they left Little Sprout at home. Even Elvis Presley (Terri Poole) was resurrected from the dead to do one last concert performance for G.C. An adorable Baby Hughy drank his supper (Mike Rhodes). The Joker (Cheryl Wiegert) was good for a laugh. Then the Wolfman (Everet Steele) ran out from the strange crowd, around the tables, and was seen by most all before he escaped back among the strange ones.

. . . They seize hostage (Kathie Eckard) . . .

. . . She screams; Day One.

Not only was David Fandino cloned, but our very own Dr. Hodge (Carla & Kim) played an unknowing part in the duplication. Raggedy Ann & Andy came out of their storybook to entertain us. The Ayatollah Khomeni and one of his militant students (Mike Black & Rob) started a 2-man invasion from Iran. A Saturday Night at G.C. (James Eller) haunted the cafeteria. The Wounded Soldier portrayed by Tom Nemo stumbled in & then out. Butch Sherrill, Darlene Stanley, & Jeanette Beaudry judged both the strange characters and the members of the pumpkin patch. The Jolly Green Giant & his tomato came in 1st place, Mrs. Matty came in 2nd place, & Ayatollah Khomeni won 3rd. Of the pumpkins Miss Piggy was first & The Rose was second. On October 31st, strange things appeared. A giant sized Rely tampon was accompanied by Toxic Shock. A tuxedoed Barbara Shrank awaited a companion to the Ball. A Roman (Ada Freeman) & a housewife (Carol Fenton) ate in our cafeteria. Kathy Holbrook, a lone witch, was out on the sidewalks in the early afternoon. John Presley and a cowgirl attended the famous Mens Dorm party as did the Greek concubine Barbara Stickley.

NAUTILUS

NEWS BREAK:

After 444 days held hostage, the 52 American Hostages were freed from Iran on Jan. 20, 1981. President Carter signed the release agreement with Iran as one last act before his end of office. But, Ronald Reagan was sworn into the office of President before the actual release of the long awaited event. The USA went wild!! Mobs of people Nation wide praised God for the release. Over a year ago, most of us here at G.C. wore white armbands in honor of the hostages. Later after one of the hostages' wives put a yellow ribbon around an oak tree in her front yard. It became the fashion to use the yellow ribbons to celebrate the return. Yellow balloons and ribbons were abundant everywhere. Greensboro College gathered around the flag pole and sent off many yellow balloons into the misty gray air of the day. Incidently, has anyone noticed that our flag pole actually has a USA flag flying from it daily? We can thank 2 of our Army ROTC guys for that fine service done every morning and night.

Parlor Theatre

The message in this play is truly a simple one. It deals, as a good play should, with the theme of life; our every day decisions and how to make them.

Peter Ott, Avis & Mary are faced with great decisions. Peter has to chose between Mary (who is carrying his child and Avis (the woman he truly loves). Avis is faced with the problem of loving a man she can't have & Mary has to decide whether or not she will give the child up for adoption.

Peter shows up at Avis' house where Mary is spending the summer in seclusion. One can imagine the turmoil this action causes! He takes a job with Avis & is able to convince Mary to marry him. However, Peter is shown another side of Avis, one he likes tremendously and one he eventually falls in love with. Avis, in the meantime, has come to the same conclusion and is baffled by what to do.

Marys' parents arrive on the scene & Mary (unaware of the situation between Avis & Peter) tells them of her man, Peter Ott. Peter then arrives drunk as a sot. The liquor gives him the courage to say that he doesn't want to marry their daughter and that he loves Avis. This causes an uproar that you wouldn't believe!

Avis gives up her tiny resort business by telling Harry to "shove it up his seat business" and takes Peter. Mary gives the baby up for adoption and Peter has his Avis.

The message being that only you can make the decisions in your life, you and no one else. . . . Andy Austin

When the father of two sister dies, they start competing for the choice items among his belongings. Only one thing goes wrong with their little schemes, he is not dead Grandpa (their father) learns of their petty ways and has a new will drawn up which excludes his "loving" daughters. He then decides to marry his secret love and leave everything to her. Betsy Harding chose this light play for her directing recital. . . . Tom Vick

The Dearly Departed

Was a murder about to be committed in the empty theater? How could the memories of an old actor's lost love help a young mans own loss of the one he loves? What are the symptoms of love? Its cycles? And most of all, how do you cure it? These questions were answered in this play which Sarah Hughes chose as her directory recital. Cheryl Wiegert acted as Sarahs assistant director. . . . Tom Vick

Tom Vick, Nat Hammer, Paula Webster, & Teresa Deatley ate their meal on the empty stage. Paula smiles knowingly as Teresa tells of her love problems with the emotional Nat. Nat is asked to run down to the corner store by Paula. Teresa got the love bug that Nat had for her. She says "Mario, Mario never seems to know I'm alive". . . . Tom Vick

What Do You Think Of G.C.?

The Plexus Mime Theatre

On January 29, 1981 the Plexus Mime Theatre came to G.C. bringing with them laughter & drama. Jyl Hewston, Robert Morse, Joe Mori were our entertainers for the evening. However, they did enlist some help from the G.C. audience who helped to make the evening memorable for us all. Randy Knipe & Jeanne Stanley were the stars for the night. Randy portrayed an elephant on stage & Jeanne took 'Natashas' place for a few moments during a juggling sequence. The best-liked performance of the whole show was the Kurlytov Family Circus, in which they talked (in foreign language) to the responsive audience.

After the performance, Robert Morse & Gary Russell talk about 'GRUMPS' (part of the show) as Jeanne Stanley eavesdrops in the background Randy Kanipe takes a crash course in juggling Jyl Hewston explains her art to Randy Kanipe & Paul Maynard Joe Mori being mobbed by Cheryl Weigert & an over zealous friend Dennis Straub speaks intellectually with Robert Morse.

Sassy Conners sang her heart out for MDA. Judy played a mean piano for all who would sing, although some did prefer to accompany themselves. Some of the prize-givers didn't want to let go! Tom Halfacker looks happy that he has won a prize. Laura Moog is only too glad to give it a way. While Moogie sorts the entries, John Williamson digs into the prizes. Snake Smith notices the ring around the collar on the "give-away".

Greensboro College hosted the N.C.A.I.A.W. Tournament this year. The Athletic Department went through quite a bit of preparation before the November 7th weekend. When the day finally arrived, there were some excited players here at G.C. While our team warmed up & played volleyball, the students came out & supported the team. Georgia Worley was one & Jo Williamson another. (opp. pg.) Some students calmly awaited the outcome of the games, while others like Carol Fenton actively supported the team. Coach Frank & Rob Freidman watch from the sidelines. It was a close game between G.C. & St. Andrews. We were tied for 2nd place with them, but they proved to be the better team and we lost. Needless to say, there were a lot of disapointed players in the G.C. locker room. Teresa Locklear hid her disapointment standing at the water fountain.

Roller Skating

Starra Phipps parties down. Lonely shoes wait for their masters. Cameron Piner looks lost and lonely but Nappy Boykin shows off for everyone. Kurt Rothrock sneaks up on Linda Mellon.

Juan Herrara does the beginners skate, arms outstretched. Eric Bredeson does the slightly more advanced skate, arms closer together. Brian Keene however is the epitomy of the speed skater, more daring than brains! To the right now we see Nancy Sellin and Ernie Lissabet doing the roller boogie. Lisa Gibson, well, we all try!

John Presley basks in the sun. Ellyn Tucker explains life with a frown to Mark Conrad. Mark Gardner, Paul Maynard, Ellen McAdams, and friends. Holly Harrison. Thom Jones and Everett Stille lei around.

Kim Rainey, Susan Valentine and Susan Jolly wonder whether or not they should join in the festivities. Cecil Young, Darry Toler, & Sandy Morris look thrilled over their food. Paul Cordts and Kelly Whalen speak in hushed tones. Dino Di Anglis. Bob Touhey displays his shirt for us.

This young man doesn't seem too happy about having to wait for his food. Naima Boushmaha stuffs her face. Nate Troxler dancing? Well this looks to be your basic boring crowd! Wanda Smith, Karen Clark, Marcia Call, Angela Sorrells, and Barbara Stickley. "God, Am I sleepy." "Clap your hands together!"

Ellyn Tucker helps herself to some vittles.

Dave Negron and Randy Kanipe check out the situation. Gordie Steadman and friend just take in the suns rays. Rob Wilson caught in the act of goodness knows what! John Thomas and friend munch out for the camera.

Theres nothing like dancing to beach music! Taffy McLean and John Kinmon love beach music! Preceeding page: Dave Negron and Laura Moog party hardy! Gloria Torres moves in for the kill. G.C.'S quietest' couple Hanan Elbakary and Jeff 'Doc' Safley. Is Jeanette Beaudry always eating? This beach party was quite a success what with all the food, music and yes, even banana splits! Everyone got up to boogie down to Paul Cordts portable (by car) beach music. Jeanette Beaudry and her staff handed out the leis at the beginning of the afternoon so that everyone could get in the lazy beach type of mood. Of course, we all did, what else can one do when they are stuffed full of food and they are leiing in the sun? It was tough to drag ourselves up to get the banana splits but somehow we made it!

CASINO NIGHT

Panty Raid

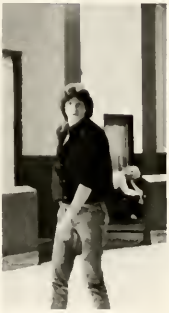
Panty raids at G.C. are wild affairs. When the men get into the girls dorm they usually find that the girls are waiting for them, armed with baby powder, baby oil, shampoo, water balloons, shaving cream and anything else that they can get their hands on. If for some reason they can't get in (guards waiting by the door) they always turn on some unsuspecting member of their group. (Look at the bottom of the page) Top left: Jim O'Conner, Mark Gentry, Henry Stone, Snake Smith, John Williamson, Frank DiNatle, Dan Lauricella, Thom Jones, Everett Stille. Center left: Randy Kanipe, Everett Stille, Jim O'Conner, Henry Stone, James Eller, Snake Smith, John Williamson, Dave Negron, Dan Lauricella, Tom Vic, & Thom Jones. Most of our men adorn themselves in robes and ties. John Williamson throws a water balloon. Darryl Cagel pleads with the girls to come out. Can you guess what man has been attacked?

A Day On The Sunroof

When the first rays of summer sunshine beat down upon Greensboro College, a strange thing happens girls start coming from everywhere to collect on the sunroof. Deb 'Web' Williams and Marcia Call are some of the sun worshippers. Of course, Sassy Conners likes it too. You can always tell the time of day because ever five minutes someone will ask. If it is getting late in the day you can tell because of the scarcity of people. But a few die hards will always be soaking up the last drops of sunshine.

Ice Skating

On two Thursday nights during the school year, Student Activities planned a skating party at the rink in Carolina Circle Mall. They both were gliding successes. The whole rink was just for G.C. students to walk in and pick up their skates. Among those at the second party, Carol Fenton, laced up her skates, anxious to hit the ice where others wobbled. We all had our spills (and thrills), but there were people to pick you up when you fell. As the evening progressed, so did everyones sureness on the ice. Tom Nemo made faces while tightening his skates.



Mr. Small, the new Foods Director, got some help from Gary Russell to put some blood into the tired feet. Some practiced fancy moves like pairs skating, turns, skips, jumps, and spins. Beginners worked at just getting the hang of the ice, stopping, turning, and even the basic backwards. The intermediate speedsters dodged in and out between everyone. By the very last of the evening, Tom Hines and Janice Wren did some very gracefull movements on the ice.

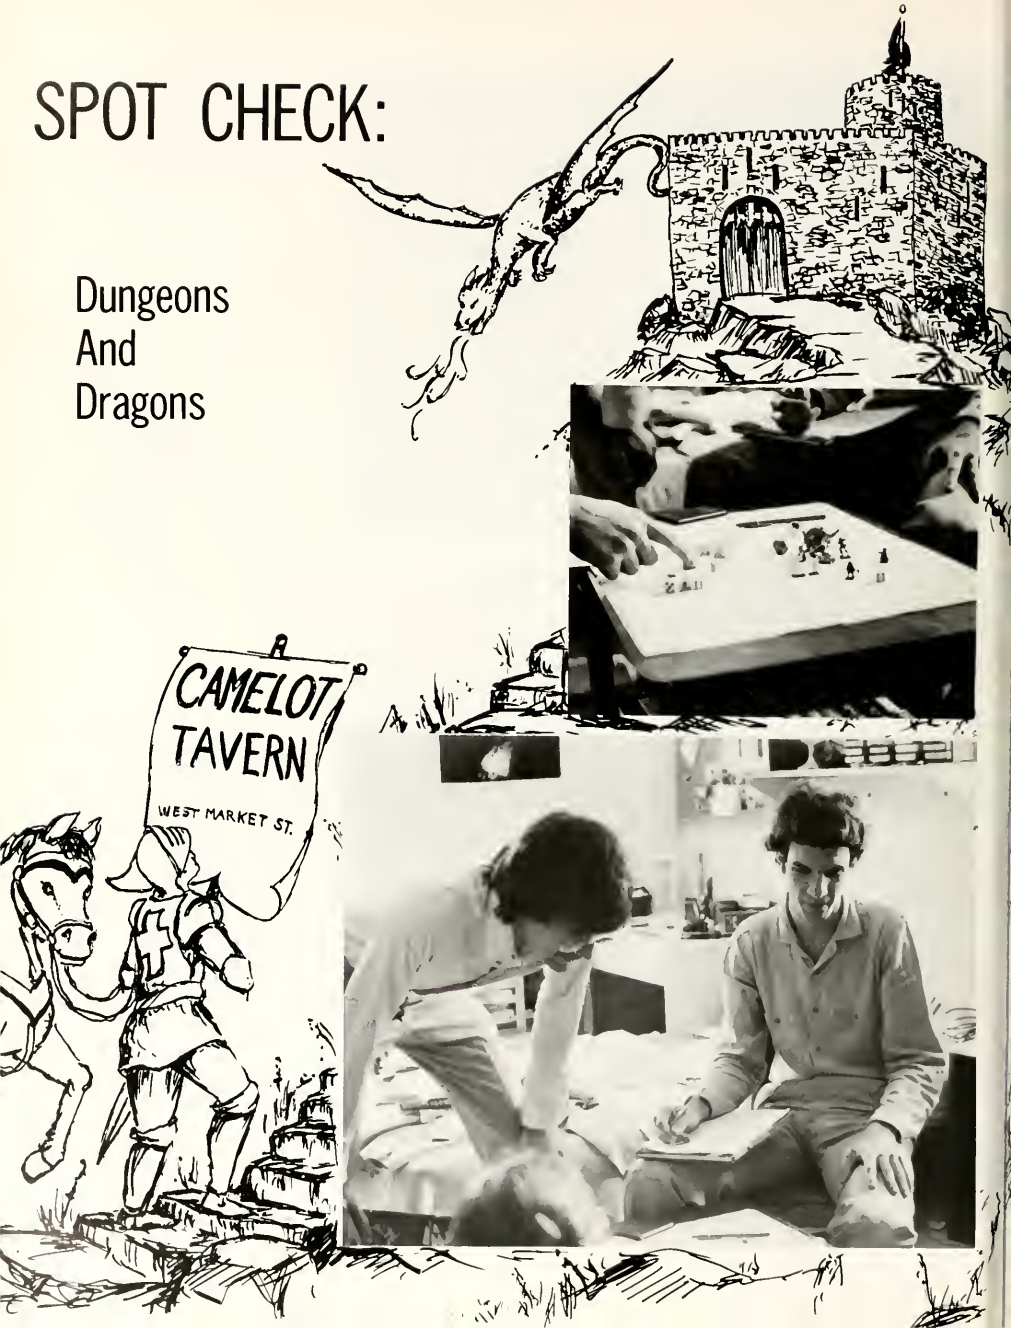
SPOT CHECK:

Dungeons And Dragons



Dungeons & Dragons, the fantasy college game, hit G.C. with the arrival of Juan Herrara in 1979. Juan interested students in the game & acted as the Dungeon Master (DM) when they played. Others then developed the skills & 'worlds' associated with being a DM. A DM makes up a 'world', he populates it with non-player characters, designs dungeons & castles, & cities & towns in which the characters live & play. Its filled with monsters, dragons, orks, hobgoblins, assassins, gold, magic, & the all important ADVENTURE! The DMs at G.C. are Juan Herrara, Tom Vick, Craig Bazen, Ernie Lisabet, Eddie Fergusen, Jeff Safley, & Dennis Straub.

The compoments of the game include 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, & 20 sided dice, lead figures, and lots of graph paper! The game is ideally for smaller groups of 3 to 7 players but we have had up to 15 players at a time. The regular & part-time players are Craig Bazen, Tom Vick, Eddie 'CK' Ferguson, James 'Hymie' Eller, Cameron Piner, Jeff 'Doc' Safley, Barbara Stickley, Jeanne Stanley, Everett Still, Tom Halfaker, Dennis Straub, Judi Crocker, Ernie Lisabet, Rob Wilson, Mike Rhoades, Juan Herrara, Mark McNeil, & Thomas Howard. These people playing have rolled 'rolled' up characters using dice to determine strength, intelligence, wisdom, constitution, dexterity, & charisma on a scale from 3 to 18. They have different occupations (thief, fighter, cleric, magic-user) different races (human, dwarf, elf, half-ork .) & different moral & philosophical ethics (alignment).

Instead of being C.K., Cameron, James, Dennis, Tom H., Tom V., Everet, Barbara, Craig & Jeanne all the time. They become (for a few hours anyway) Sargon the fighter, Bartholomew, the ranger, Hellraiser the fighter, Therrond the fighter, St. Tom the cleric, Rannulf the ranger, Ompure the ranger, Orrion the fighter/magic-user, Falstaff the magic-user, & Lilia the cleric/fighter/magic-user in Doc's World.

Some interesting phrases have originated on the D & D game board, such as You bite/I bite (you missed your opponent), Bite me (disgust with another player), Another one bites the dust (your player got killed), Lets nail it (lets kill it), You're mamas an Ork (Orks are the bad guys), Raise a little hell (self-explanatory!) Roll an 8-sided (the die used to determine how much damage or wounding that you did to an opponent), ALL RIGHT! (means you nailed it big time!). Whats your charisma? (Jeannes asking how good-looking you are again!) If this totally confuses you . GO PLAY!

Point Of Interest: Raku Workshops

Three weekends late in the first semester were spent by those who participated in a Raku Workshop. The first 2 Saturdays, Corrine Pifer and Debbie Rodgers learned that cleaning up can be as messy as working on the potter's wheels. Cece Wright, hand-built several free organic shapes Barbara Stickley sent a whole day constructing that egg shape. On the first Saturday of December, the bisque fired works were glazed to be raku fired. Leslie Macki and Chip Symonds turned artist. Torri Hite and Corrine Pfifer exersize their abilities. Unfortunately, the fall semester's firing was unsuccessful as the kiln did not reach the right temperature. But all had fun romping in the leaves, eating popcorn, and cracking walnuts. The spring semester's firing was sucessfull though.-photos by Barb Stickley and Corrine Pifer.

HOMECOMING DANCE

The Homecoming Dance 1981 was a smashing success for all who went. The turnout was surprisingly large! Members of both sexes went stag, and many others went paired together for that Valentine's Day evening at the Royal Villa. The 4 member band "Sugarcreek" played for those who crowded the dance floor. At some times in the evening, the hard surfaced dance floor was so full, people were dancing all over the carpeted floor.

All Photos by Jeanne Stanley.

While the band played and the people danced, anybody's hunger and thirst were satisfied at the huge loaded food tables. Punch was there in large bowls. (Some say it got an unplanned for liquid ingredient that we shall not mention here). The refreshments consisted of delicious little meatballs, hotdogs, sandwiches, and chicken legs, as well as dip and potato chips.

In the pictures on the facing page: John Kimman couldn't part with his UVA cup even when he was out with Wanda Hemphill. James Eller and C.K. Fergeson showed their grinning faces. Ernie Lisabet danced half the night away. In fact, about everybody danced that night! Kim Rainey fluffed her hair before hitting the dance floor. Tom Vick just stayed on the floor. On this page; The Animal (Carl Shatley) got wild at the table, so Dave Negron protected Beth Groome. Linda Mellon sat with (Or on??) her boyfriend Scott. Doc Safley and Hanan ElBakry ignored this crowd. Jeanne Stanley looked sophisticated, prim, and proper here with Kevin, but really, she was the one hopping up and down off the chairs surprising people with the Echo camera and flash.

Homecoming Queen June Stewart & her escort Glenn Harris seem happy about the outcome of the evening. "Oh, my God! I made it!" The senior representatives were Wanda Smith & her escort John Hort. Carol Fenton & her escort Drew Walker. The junior representatives were Susan Wheeler & her escort Dave Phillips. Spring Dance

Our May Queen and her date seem to be enjoying the dance. Dino D'Anglis and Karen Clark are holding their own conversation in the middle of the dance floor. Mike Drummond seems to have his own private joke. John Kinmon and his woman, well, well! Lynn Bicknell tries to decide who will be her next dance partner. "No, I'm not a wife-beater" but she is!" says Billy Evans. C.C. doesn't know what to say. A.J. Garcia contemplates the intellectual high of freshmen English during the bands intermission. Eric Bredeson smiles at an unseen friend. "What do you mean you left the shower running in our suite?" "You'd never believe "plain 'punch could taste so good!" "Just get me out of here before the raid, and I don't mean bug spray!"

Everyone boogies down to the music. Frank DeNatale and Gigi LaMorte seem to be following Laura Moog. Two lovers pose for a portrait. A.J. Garcia holds a hushed conversation with Lee Ann Snyder while Dino DeAngelis listens in. Another spy seems to be coming in from the rear.
